You can always customize it and make changes to it as you like. With the new Ribbon the standard navigation tabs would be rearranged in different ways: Home Insert View Format While the Idbe Ribbon Creator 2010 provides you with the tabs that you are most probably using: Home View Format The User Favorites tab is not shown in the new Ribbon. The Tab Bar control of the standard Word Ribbon is not shown in the new Ribbon. Idbe Ribbon Creator 2010 provides you with the ability to use your own custom buttons. You would have to put them in the Insert and View tabs. Idbe Ribbon Creator 2010 brings many other changes. This includes an ability to easily create new custom buttons using the New button (not available in the standard Word Ribbon): While in the standard Ribbon you would have to double-click the button on the Ribbon tab to edit it: While in the Idbe Ribbon Creator 2010, the button can be edited with ease: The Customize button is also shown in the new Ribbon, so no other customization is required. It provides you with the following options: The import option of the standard Ribbon is not shown in the new Ribbon, as the new Ribbon was meant to be used with the new UI, not with the existing Ribbon. The Import button of the new Ribbon allows you to import an XML file. However, the new Ribbon uses what is called "custom actions" which are not available in the standard Word Ribbon. These "custom actions" allow you to create buttons that would allow you to customize the Ribbon with ease. These Custom Actions are used with the new
