Q: Pass the first letter of a string of numbers, to a macro if the character lies in first or last position (ex: 42, 99, 567) I'm still trying to master VBA macros, I find most of them so complicated for such basic things, I'm not sure if this is even possible, what I mean is that I'm generating a list of text, and some of the text have something like this: (let's use again 42 for now) This is a long string of numbers, something like this: 1243 I know how to pass the string, say to a macro. It's no problem, I know. But I want to split the string into it's parts depending in the position of the first or last character. For example, if I pass the string to a macro like this: Sub ShowMeRandomnumbers() Dim str As String str = "This is a long string of numbers, something like this: 1243" Call RandomNumbers(str) End Sub Sub RandomNumbers(str As String) str = str.Remove(0, 1)'remove first character str = str.Replace(" ", "")'remove spaces Set r = CreateObject("System.Random") For i = 1 To Len(str) If CInt(Right$("0000000" & r.Next(0, 99999), 3)) Mod 10 = 0 Then'Add to the list str = str & "000" End If str = str & " " & CInt(Right$("0000000" & r.Next(0, 99999), 3))'Insert the number Next MsgBox str End Sub I get, for example, this results: 1123 1234 5678 9998 That's great, now what I want to do is to take only the first letter of the string. For example, if I take the string "1234" the result should be this: a123 I'm new to VBA, I know this is very basic but I'm trying to learn as much
