What's New In?

SuperFileAway is a unique addition to the Widgets Engine. The Fileaway Widget will offer you full control of how and where you are going to put files. By hitting the button you are going to copy the File to the specified folder. And if you drop the Files without clicking anything or holding the Control key you can choose where the File is being dropped to. You can choose how many files to be copied per folder, and which directory the Files are going to go to. The Fast FileMove Widget Transfers anything that you want over the Internet to a destination. This Widget allows you to use the same fast file transfer service as Gmail's Link. Requirements:  Google's Web Services Widget Engine Fast FileMove Widget Description: The Fast FileMove Widget will allow you to use the same fast file transfer service as Gmail's Link. The Fast FileMove Widget is a separate service than the Zsync Service we have previously released. The service allows you to transfer files over the Internet to your designated destination. It allows you to select the files that you want to transfer, the destination directory you want to use, and the maximum file size you want to transfer. It transfers the files without any questions asked in order to speed up the transfer. You can add multiple Files and multiple Destination Files. When you are finished transferring your files then you will need to stop the transfer. The configuration option will allow you to start and stop the transfer as often as you want. There are three main folder locations you may choose from for the transfer.

C:\Users\{User}\Desktop\Zsync\ C:\Users\{User}\Desktop\Zsync\Uploads C:\Documents and Settings\{User}\Desktop\Zsync\ The Uploads folder will be created for you when you first start the transfer. You will be prompted when the maximum file size is being reached or exceeded. If a transfer has been started and you want to add more files you have to restart the service. When selecting a Files you want to transfer there will be a popup you can use to select which folder you want the files to be transferred to. The popup will appear above the Files where they are being shown. You can choose an "advanced" option to allow you to choose the location of your shortcut as well. When you are ready the transfer is complete and
